SERVICES

ROAD

We provide road cargo service at evaluated, market-related costs to our customers. We can assist and support you throughout the entire delivery process thanks to our extensive knowledge of the delivery industry and our use of only reputable and well-known transporters.

Road freight has many advantages, including: Convenience, cost-effectiveness, speed of delivery, and ease of tracking all come at lower costs for handling.

SEA

Sea freight may be the best mode of transportation if cost and not time are your primary concerns. Sea freight is your shipping option for bulk container transportation requirements and is one of the oldest and most cost-effective methods of transporting goods. The sea freight options we offer are ideal for any business seeking a cost-effective transportation option, despite the fact that air transportation may be the primary option for time-sensitive shipments. We recommend that you take into consideration the following in order to get the most out of our sea freight services: Managing your time effectively: It is recommended to make a reservation well in advance of the required delivery date due to the fact that sea freight times are significantly longer than those of some other methods of transporting cargo. Size of Cargo: In general, this method of international cargo transportation is more valuable the more goods there are. Transport in Safety: In order to reduce the likelihood of your goods becoming damaged during their journey, it is essential, as it is with all forms of freight, to ensure that they are securely packaged.

AIR

Air freight may be the ideal option for your delivery if time is more important than cost. Our capacity to deliver air freight is an essential component of our logistics service. Probably the quickest and most cost-effective method is air freight.

Small packages and shipping pallets are two common sizes of air-transported packages. Air freight, on the other hand, is especially suitable for packages of a medium or small size because of the time and cost constraints. CML LTD's air freight services provide an expedited delivery option for high-value, low-volume items that need to reach their destination quickly. Air freight has many advantages, including: Delivery speed Dependability Coverage area Security Less need for storage Simple tracking
